This symposium focuses on best practices in chemistry education, with an International theme. Invited speakers will include those from the United States, participants in the European Chemistry and Chemical Engineering Education Network 2 (EC2E2N 2), along with others who are interested in sharing ideas and best practices in chemistry education.