This is a career development workshop for Graduate Students and Postdoctoral Scholars

Chemical science departments are encouraged to host this event on their campus (two days) or online (flexible scheduling), so that grad students and postdocs can receive the knowledge and tools that would otherwise require weeks of individual effort to obtain.

For more details visit: www.acs.org/careerkickstarter Send inquiries about possible times and costs to GradEd@acs.org

After this workshop, participants should be able to:

1. Understand how skills, values and opportunities intersect to create a satisfying career path.
2. Identify their own personal values and skills.
3. Apply strategies for career exploration in different job sectors (Academia, Industry, Government and Non-Profit/Entrepreneurship/Other).
4. Develop goals to reach their desired career objective.
5. Conduct a successful job search.
