

Herman Frasch Fund for Chemical Research Grants in Agricultural Chemistry

Administered by the American Chemical Society
Office of Research Grants, 1155 Sixteenth Street, NW, Washington, DC 20036

Eligibility, Terms and Conditions

1. Grants will be used for research in the field of agricultural chemistry with the object of attaining results that are of practical benefit to the agricultural development of the United States.
2. Grantee organization must be an academic institution incorporated and existing within the United States.
3. The 2022-2027 Frasch competition is restricted to tenured or tenure-track faculty in their first seven years of their first academic appointment.
4. Grants are made for a period of five years (July 1, 2022 to June 30, 2027), subject to annual review and approval of progress.
5. Grants will be made in an amount of $50,000 per year or $250,000 for the five-year period. Proposals are considered only once in five years and grants are allocated at five-year intervals.
6. A grant budget must be submitted which includes at least the detail shown on the budget form provided in the application; it is preferred that funds be used as much as possible to support students. Grant funds may not be used for tuition, overhead, administrative expenses, large items of equipment, travel outside of the United States, or salary/benefits for the principal investigator. Publication costs should be listed. There is no objection to a modest carryover of funds from year to year. Requests for consumable supplies, chemicals, glassware, etc., should be reasonable.
7. Annual reports of financial expenditures, progress of the research, and personnel are due on a date in August specified in the call for reports each year, and must be submitted in order for support to continue.
8. Support of the Herman Frasch Fund for Chemical Research should be acknowledged in scientific publications resulting from research funded by this program.
9. A PDF of the signed application must be received by 5:00 pm ET November 5, 2021 via email to Frasch@acs.org.
