

Read the online version

INDUSTRY MATTERS

Information, insights, and advice for ACS industry members

April 16, 2020

Today's Boss Talk features Dow's A.N. Sreeram, who comments on tech trends he is following, scientific literacy in the U.S., and Dow's sustainability efforts. Natalie LaFranzo prescribes a solution for gender bias in the workplace. And in the Innovation Zone, we profile serial entrepreneur Mukund Chorghade.

John C. Katz
Executive Editor

COVID-19 REPORTS

Looking to see how COVID-19 has affected the chemical industry? Check out ACS Industry Matters special collection of articles related to the virus. Read More

ACS BOSS TALK

"What are some ways in which Dow operations have been impacted by the COVID-19 pandemic?"

A.N. Sreeram

Senior Vice President &
Chief Technology Officer
Dow Chemical Company

"I am amazed at what our people have done and are doing. Dow products, chemical industry products, are critical in the fight against coronavirus..." Read More

INNOVATION ZONE

Why you shouldn't be the CEO of your own company and the many applications of an oxidation catalyst

Dr. Mukund Chorghade's fascination with both chemistry and the US started with an India-China border argument, a famine, a chemist, his father and... Read More

Mukund Chorghade

President & Chief Scientific Officer,
THINQ Pharma

CAREER PERSPECTIVES

"What are some ways to cope with or combat gender bias in the workplace?"

Natalie LaFranzo

Vice President, Market Development,
Cofactor Genomics

"Gender bias is unacceptable. It's emotionally exhausting to deal with bias in all forms. While there are..." Read More

COMING SOON

- Lisa Balbes on the skills needed to succeed in today's industry marketplace
- ACS Career Consultants tips on how to find work-life balance while working remote
- Safety expert Frankie Wood-Black on changing our attitude toward safety

Subscribe

Join

Renew

Archive

MORE FROM ACS

Recovery and Contingency planning for Post-COVID-19 Activities on April 21

Workplaces, schools, colleges, universities and research all will be different in the post-COVID-19 world. When and how we resume our lives away from isolation is unclear. Future productivity and success will depend on flexible planning. but we must now think about our options and contingencies. Join Neal Langerman of Advanced Chemical Safety and Harry J. Elston of Midwest Chemical Safety, during this free interactive broadcast, as they lead a discussion on how what organizations can do to adapt and how and help you plan for this uncertain future. Register Here

Practice Social Distancing and Join Us Online with ACS On Demand

ACS Professional Education On Demand offers high-quality, prerecorded courses across all topics of chemistry, available as separate modules to allow you to pick and choose the modules you need with the flexibility to participate at any time, from anywhere at an affordable price! Learn More

Learn how to plan your chemistry career with this free ACS India webinar on May 5

With more uncertainty in the job market for traditional research jobs, alternative career paths are becoming more attractive. Join us for a free webinar in India that will provide exposure to several distinct fields that rely fundamentally on chemistry. Register Here

You will learn:

- How one can plan for a chemistry career in the industry
- Examples of jobs for chemists that exist outside the traditional path
- Additional skills that could be useful while pursuing such career (technical/soft skills etc.)

American Chemical Society | 1155 Sixteenth Street, NW | Washington, DC 20036
Copyright © 2021 American Chemical Society. All rights reserved.

You are receiving this newsletter because you are an ACS member or you have subscribed to it. To ensure that you continue to receive our emails, please add us to your address book or safe list.

Unsubscribe from ACS Industry Matters | Manage preferences | Privacy Policy