Fall 2022 Oral - In-Person Presenter Information

Key Information

The minimum requirement for all presenters accepted to an Oral – In-person session at an ACS Meeting is to:

- attend live oral technical session to make your presentation or provide a pre-recorded presentation to play in a session
- register for the Meeting

Presenters who do not complete either of the above steps will be removed from the program, SciMeetings and CAS archives

Getting Started: Presenters will primarily work in the ACS Virtual Meetings Platform; you need your ACS ID to log onto this system. Please do not create multiple ACS ID’s.

ACS Virtual Meeting Platform

Beginning August 1, 2022, log into your account in “speaker management” to

- create your profile
- locate your session information
- pre-record or upload your presentation for on-demand viewing (if needed and by 8/16/22, 11:59 PM ET)

On Demand Recordings – ACS offers access to Fall 2022 content on demand after the live sessions are over. On-Demand recording is open until August 16 prior to the meeting, then reopens on August 26 through September 9

Pre-Recording to play in live session – If you are unable to attend your live session, you can pre-record your presentation to be shown in a session. To do so, please provide a presentation recording (mp4 recommended) directly to session presider outside of Speaker Management and arrange for this to be played in the live session. Contact your program chair and/or symposium organizer to request presider contact information.
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>What</th>
<th>SciMeetings is the official archive and repository for all presenter ACS Fall 2022 abstracts. Presenters can select to upload to SciMeetings and extend the longevity of their conference material.</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Additional Fees</td>
<td>Purchase SciMeetings access for your abstract while registering for the meeting. Multiple listings will require multiple SciMeetings purchases. $150 basic and standard package members and non-members $90 premium package members $45 (student) per poster or presentation,</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Benefits</td>
<td>• a citable DOI • an open access license • the ability to add supplemental information to your upload • personal analytics to track engagement • increased discoverability on SciFinder, Google Scholar, and the ACS Publications platform</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Frequently Asked Questions

Will the live in-person session be broadcast online for virtual participants to view? No

Will the live session be recorded and re-broadcast? No. Live sessions are not recorded, therefore cannot be rebroadcast.

How long is a session? Maximum allotted time is 240 minutes per session.

I cannot attend my assigned live in-person session to make my presentation, how can I participate? – You may pre-record your presentation at any time before the session date and give it to the session presider to play during the session. Note, we are unable to make updates to the program. If you are not able to participate, please email maps@acs.org to withdraw from the program. If you fail to attend your session, or provide a pre-recorded presentation, you will be noted as a no-show and withdrawn from the program.

Does my presentation have to be uploaded? – No. We encourage you to record a presentation for on-demand viewing, but this is not required.

Will there be technical support provided in the meeting room? - Yes, an ACS staff technician will be stationed to 'float' between rooms to address technical problems.
Is Q&A included in my presentation time? Q&A time depends on the session. It may be right after your presentation or after all presentations in the session. Please contact your symposium organizer for more information.

What is the best way to stay abreast of critical information? Go to the MAPS system log in>select the appropriate meeting> go to messages,>then emails to reference your acceptance notice, scheduling notice or any important communication.

How can I change presenters? Presenters can be changed to another listed author on the abstract by emailing maps@acs.org. New authors can no longer be added.

How may I share my slides during my presentation? A laptop will be provided at the podium to load and share your slides using a usb drive. You may also connect your personal device using HDMI connection only. Please bring necessary adaptors if you plan to us your personal device.